The United States Probation Office, United States District Court, Western District of Kentucky is accepting applications for the position of United States Probation and Pretrial Services Officer. This position is located in Bowling Green, Kentucky. The United States Probation Office provides coverage for 53 counties in Western Kentucky. There are four offices in the Western District of Kentucky (Louisville, Bowling Green, Owensboro, and Paducah, Kentucky). The vacancy is contingent upon budget availability.

By statute, probation and pretrial services officers serve in a judiciary law enforcement position and assist in the administration of justice and promote community safety, gather information, supervise persons under supervision, interact with collateral agencies, prepare reports, conduct investigations, and present recommendations to the court. Officers may guide the work of probation / pretrial services officer assistants and other staff. Officers perform duties that involve pretrial services and probation case work.

Representative Duties

The U.S. Probation Officer performs a full range of duties and responsibilities including, but not limited to the following:

- Conducts investigations and prepare reports for the court with recommendations, which requires interviewing offenders/defendants and their families, as well as collecting background data from various sources. An integral part of this process is the interpretation and application of policies and procedures, statutes, Federal Rules of Criminal Procedures, U.S. Sentencing Guidelines, Guide to Judiciary Policy (Monographs), and relevant case law.
- Tracks legal developments, and updates staff and the court.
- Enforces court-ordered supervision components and implement supervision strategies. Maintains personal contact with persons under supervision. Investigates employment, sources of income, lifestyle, and associates to assess risk and compliance. Addresses substance abuse, mental health, domestic violence, and similar problems and implement the necessary treatment or violation proceedings, through assessment, monitoring, and counseling.

- Schedules and conducts drug use detection tests of persons under supervision, following established procedures and protocols. Maintains computerized records of test results. Maintains chain of custody or urinalysis testing materials. Responds to judicial officer’s request for information and advice. Testifies in court as to the basis for factual findings and (if warranted) guideline applications. Serves as a resource to the court. Maintains detailed electronic records of case activity. May conduct search and seizure at the direction of the court.
- Investigates and analyzes financial documents and activities and take appropriate action. Ensures compliance with Mandatory Victims Restitution Act. Responsible for enforcement of location monitoring conditions ordered by the court.
- Analyzes and responds to any objections. This may include resolving disputed issues and presenting unresolved issues to the court for resolution. Establish skills to assess the risk level of persons under supervision and develop a blend of strategies (monitoring, restricting and intervention) to manage risk and address need.
- Communicates with other organizations and external stakeholders (such as the U.S. Parole Commission, Bureau of Prisons, law enforcement, treatment agencies, and attorneys) concerning the behavior and conditions of supervision of persons under supervision. Identifies and investigates violations and implement appropriate alternatives and sanctions. Report violations of the conditions of supervision to the appropriate authorities. Prepares written reports of violation matters and makes recommendations for disposition. Testifies at court or parole hearings. Conducts Parole Commission preliminary interviews. Knowledge of, and compliance with, the Code of Conduct for Judicial Employees and court confidentiality requirements. Ability to consistently demonstrate sound ethics and judgment.
- Other duties as assigned.

Physical Requirements and Maximum Entry Age / Other Conditions of Employment

U.S. Probation Officers are covered under law enforcement retirement as defined in Title 5, U.S.C., Chapters 83 and 84. In order to be included under federal law enforcement officer provisions, an individual would have to meet maximum entry age provisions as follows: First time appointees to positions covered under law enforcement officer retirement provisions must not have reached their 37th birthday at the time of appointment.

For an applicant with previous law enforcement officer experience under the Civil Service Retirement System or the Federal Employees’ Retirement System and either a subsequent break in service or intervening service in a non-law enforcement officer position, the maximum entry age is increased by adding the number of years of previous law enforcement experience to 37. For example, for a candidate with five years of creditable previous law enforcement experience, the maximum entry age would be 42.

Law enforcement retirement provisions require mandatory separation once an employee meets age and service requirements (age 57 with at least 20 years of qualifying service).

Prior to appointment, the selectee considered for this position must undergo a medical examination and drug screening. Upon successful completion of the medical examination and drug screening, the selectee may be appointed provisionally pending a favorable suitability determination by the Court after completion of an extensive background investigation, which will begin on the day of the provisional appointment.

In addition, as conditions of employment, incumbent will be subject to ongoing random drug screening, updated background investigations every five years, and as deemed necessary by management for reasonable cause, may be subject to subsequent fitness-for-duty evaluations. Retention in this position will depend upon favorable suitability determination of the initial and subsequent background investigation(s).

The medical requirements and the essential job functions derived from the medical guidelines for probation officers, pretrial services officers, and officer assistants are available for public review at <http://www.uscourts.gov/>.

Probation officers receive extensive local training and must also successfully complete a four-week intensive national training program at the U.S. Probation and Pretrial Services Training Academy in Charleston, South Carolina.

Applicants must be United States Citizens or eligible to work for the United States Government. Appointment is contingent upon providing proof of U.S. citizenship or proof of authorization to work in the United States.
